HUTTON'S RETURN WITH BRIDE FOLLOWED BY DEMONSTRATION

Friends Met Bridal Party at the Train, Formed Procession and Headed by Nonpariel Band, Marched Through Principle Streets of Town

The scene at the depot when the 7:45 train pulled in last night was a lively one. Everyone seemed to know that Arthur Hutton and his bride were on the train and all were eager to be the first to bestow the words of congratulation.

The bride and groom were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Culler who met them in New York. A crowd of the "boys" who were there immediately took charge of "Scotty" as he is familiarly known and placed him aboard a wagon which had been especially "fixed up" and which was in waiting. The bride was driven to the Culler home. After everything was ready the procession headed by the Nonpariel band of which Scotty is a very popular member paraded the principal streets, followed by a large number of friends carrying torches and red fire. Everyone enjoyed the situation, but none more so than did Scotty, who seated in the wagon with some of his intimate friends, the band playing particularly inspiring music, was "happy as a king."

Mr. Hutton was finally delived at the Culler home where a reception in honor of he and his bride, was given. It proved a most enjoyable affair many of the couple's friends and acquaintances being present and they were showered with congratulations and best wishes on every hand.

They received many beautiful presents as a token of the high regard in which they are held by their friends. At 11 o'clock all repaired to the dining rooms, which were beautifully decorated, where a banquet was given. One table was reserved for the members of the band and the boys "toasted" to the health of the bride and groom, several times.

All enjoyed the affair immensely. Mrs Hutton who was a popular young lady at Glasgow, Scotland, expresses herself as being very well pleased with what she has seen of this country, and speaks highly of the courteous manner in which she has been treated by all whom she has met.

Mr. Hutton brought with him from Scotland a very valuable shepherd dog which he presented to R. G Stanley. Mr. Stanley prizes it very highly.

MAN WHO JUMPED BOARD BILL IS HELD FOR COURT

In Default of $200 Bail He will be Taken to Greensburg. The Case of Conti Versus Bowser is Dismissed

A board bill jumper named Hugh Garner, was given a hearing before Squire Jas A. Watkins this morning, the suit being brought by Mrs. Eiler of Donner Ave. claiming that Garner left town several weeks ago owing her $15. Garner was finally located at New Brighton where Constable Woolsey arrested him Thursday. Garner was held for court by Squire Watkins in the sum of $200 bail, in default of which he will be taken to jail at Greensburg Monday.

The case of James V. Conti who sued Chas. Bowser for the recovery of a wagon Bowser was alleged to have refused to return after having borrowed it, was heard before Squire A. N. Shuster this morning. Two brothers of the defendant, Dan and F. D. Bowser were also implicated in the case.

The charge against Bowser was larceny by bailee. According to Conti he got the wagon about six weeks ago and never returned it. It is also said to have been broken. The testimony brought out the fact that the wagon had been loaned to Bowser by Mrs. Conti. Attorney W. H. Schnyler of Charleroi who represented the defendants questioned the plaintiff and satisfied the court that the charge was groundless. The case was dismissed.

THE SURGEON'S TOOLS

AS FEW AS POSSIBLE USED BY THE MODERN PRACTITIONER.

To Remove an Appendix, For Instance, He Can Carry Everything Necessary in One of His Pockets. Hand Forged Instruments the Best.

"A surgeon used to carry a bag of instruments weighing often as much as twenty-five pounds when he was called to operate," said a member of the staff of the New York Postgraduate Medical School and Hospital the other day. "Today an average operation, such as the removal of an appendix, calls for no more instruments than can be carried in the pockets.

"I have just come," continued the doctor, "from removing an appendix, and here in this small package are all the instruments I used—a scissors, two artery clamps, two forceps and a needle. Many operations, of course—gastro-enteric, gynecological and those that have to do with bones—require more instruments, but modern science demands the use of as few as possible in order that time may be saved. Skill and haste are prime factors in an operation. In the old days, before anaesthesia was known, this was to shorten the patient's agony as much as possible. After ether was discovered surgeons for awhile operated more leisurely, but soon finding out that the shock to the patient remaining under ether so long was always dangerous and often fatal they again recognized the importance of swiftness. Diminishing the number of instruments was one of the methods for saving time. In the operating room in the old days there was always, no matter what the operation, a good sized table laid out with ten or fifteen score of instruments, fifty artery clamps, scissors, forceps and knives by the dozen. It used to take over an hour to remove an appendix; today the average is about twelve minutes.

"The variety of instruments increases every year as surgeons meet with new needs or solve old problems. In our school here, as in others, many instruments have been devised. Especially to those having to do with the eye, ear, nose and throat have we made valuable additions as well as in the field of orthopedic appliances. The Hippocratic oath precludes the patenting of any such inventions; consequently all instruments are free to be made by all and every surgical manufactory."

The making of surgical instruments in the United States is nearly contemporaneous with the beginning of the republic, and one or two of the prominent firms today date from long before the civil war. In no country are finer instruments made than in the United States. Though the number of men employed is small, every man is a skilled laborer and an artist, with an adroitness often as fine as that of a journeyman jeweler, capable of making even the most delicate of the great variety of instruments, amounting to about 10,000, which a surgical house must keep in stock or be ready to produce upon order.

Cast and drop forged instruments have no lasting value, and once the edge is worn off they can never be satisfactorily resharpened. The process which they undergo demands that they be brought three times to a white heat. The first time the steel becomes tempered; the second and third time it becomes decarbonized and loses its temper, the result being an instrument with a shell of hard steel, capable of taking a fair edge, but beneath which the metal is soft and unfit to stand honing.

"All good instruments are hand forged. Thus prices are doubled and trebled over the prices of cast instruments because of the skilled labor and time necessary to their construction.

The workman in a careful factory must make a study of his work and learn the physical qualities of the steel or metal he works with, its strength and cutting and tension qualities. General operating instruments are made of steel, silver, platinum, gold and aluminium. German steel, owing to its tenacity, is used for forceps and blunt instruments; English cast steel for edged tools, as it receives a high temper, a fine polish and retains its edge. Silver when pure is very flexible and is useful for catheters, which require frequent change of curve. When mixed with other metals, as coin silver, it makes firm catheters, caustic holders and cannulated work. Seamless silver instruments are least liable to corrode. Platinum resists the action of acids and ordinary heat and is useful for caustic holders, actual cauteries and the electrodes of the galvano cautery. Gold, owing to its ductility, is adapted for fine tubes, such as eye syringes and so forth, while aluminium is by its extreme lightness suitable for probes, styles and tracheotomy tubes.

"Handles are made of ebony, ivory, pearl or hard rubber. Ebony and rubber are used for large instruments, though these at times have handles of steel. Ivory makes a durable and beautiful handle, though it and ebony are not entirely aseptic, because it is impossible to boil them for the purpose of sterilization without their cracking. Ivory and pearl are used for scalpels and for small instruments like those used in operating on the eye. On the whole, the best material for handles is hard rubber, since it may be vulcanized on the instrument, thus making it practically one piece, with no possible seam for the lodging of germs and thence perfectly safe.

"Next to the materials the mode of making determines the instrument's quality. Steel overheated in the forge is brittle or rotten. In shaping with the file the form may be destroyed. In hardening and tempering the steel may be spoiled. In every stage the value of the instrument depends upon the skill applied."—New York Post.

AN OLD MAN'S TRIBUTE.

An Ohio Fruit Raiser, 76 Years Old, Cured of a Terrible Case After Ten Years of Suffering.

When suffering daily torture
From backache, rheumatic pain,
Any ill of kidneys or bladder,
Turn to Doan's Kidney Pills.
A cure endorsed by thousands.
Read an old man's tribute.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

SIDNEY JUSTUS.

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Justus will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

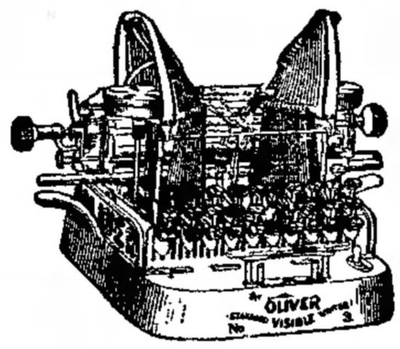
THIS TYPEWRITER DELIVERS THE GOODS

It's the Oliver—the Standard Visible Writer.

The Oliver Typewriter is just like an athlete stripped for a race



It is free from unnecessary multiplicity of wires and springs

No net work of flimsy keys to get tied into hard knots

The nimble fingered stenographer can put talk into type with this machine just as rapidly as she takes your dictation.

For no matter how swiftly she writes, she can see just what she's doing

The keyboard is so wonderfully responsive to the touch of the finger tips that speed comes without effort.

The factors that make for speed are its visible writing, its light, elastic key-touch, and it's all 'round simplicity. It has the fewest possible wearing points, and it prints with a downward stroke.

The OLIVER Typewriter

THE STANDARD VISIBLE WRITER

is a flawless piece of mechanism, combining the strength of tested steel with the perfect adjustment of the works of a watch. You can use an Oliver a life time and the type will not lose alignment

It never suffers from nervous prostration; requires only a little oil and plenty of exercise to keep it at the highest point of efficiency.

The ham of Oliver Typewriters is heard in the most progressive business houses in the land. Sales increasing at a phenomenal rate. Get acquainted with the Oliver! Write for the Oliver book—we send it free with our compliments.
